

2003 MIAC Men's Tennis Tournament

Northfield, Minn. -- Gustavus Adolphus College swept through the MIAC Tournament, not losing a match en route to winning its 15th consecutive MIAC title. Host Carleton rallied to claim the consolation bracket title, placing fifth.

The Gusties defeated Hamline 9-0 in the semifinals and dispatched of St. Thomas 9-0 in the championship match.

With the fifth-place finish at the tournament, Carleton finished third in the final conference standings, which weights the regular season and the MIAC tourney equally. Gustavus was first, followed by St. Thomas in second. It marks the Knights' best conference finish since 1997.

Carleton's Stephan Zweifel and St. John's Jack Bowe were named MIAC co-coaches of the year. It is the second consecutive year that Zweifel has won the award, as he shared the honor with co-coach Sarah Hurst last year. Hurst was tabbed as MIAC co-coach of the year on the women's side this year.

Andrew Tulloch will be awarded all-conference honors based on his 7-2 regular season conference record.

"Although the loss to Concordia was dissapointing, I was impressed with the team's resolve in bouncing back from our setback," Zweifel said. "We came out extremely strong and focused against St Olaf and St John's on Saturday, demonstrating again what we are capable of accomplishing."

"Jake Hoppe, Andrew Tulloch and William Holmes were unstoppable on Saturday, each posting 4-0 records for the day," he said.
